Silestone Episode 5-EMHE loves New York
Silestone fabricator/installer: Selective Surfaces
Vitale Family:

John and Anne-Marie Vitale of St. James, New York were a young, happily married couple with three beautiful boys. Anne-Marie, at only 28 years of age, was diagnosed with an aggressive form of leukemia and died in August 2004. Grief stricken, John, 32, who works as a policeman with the Suffolk County Police Department, continued to bring up their boys -- Jack, 4, Adrian, 2-1/2 and 18-month-old Luke -- at his in-laws' house. John has never been able to renovate, as the Vitales' savings were drained after paying hospital bills and for Anne-Marie's burial. Extreme Makeover: Home Edition gave them a new house with plenty of space for growing boys. Silestone gave them a new kitchen and master bath for John.

The kitchen features Silestone in Mont Blanc and the bathroom vanity is Silestone Silver Nube.
